

Vice Versa Catering

Vice Versa Event Management has the pleasure of offering Vice Versa Catering – a catering company focussing on quality, service, flexibility and of course delicious food.

Vice Versa Catering gives you the possibility to order food of a very high quality as a separate service.

Vice Versa Catering delivers to all types and sizes of events – and all locations.

The name of our chef is Jens Kongsgaard. He has worked on St. Jacques, receiving guidance from the famous and legendary French cook, Daniel Letz.

Vice Versa Catering also offers you our assistance in the selection and delivery of wine and other beverages for the menus.

With Vice Versa Catering as a supplier you will get full flexibility as to the number of persons and the composition of menus. For inspiration we have included some proposals of our menus for both small and big parties.

Vice Versa Catering delivers, beside the culinary, of course also tableware, waiters, bartenders and other related assistance for your event.

It is not a problem if you have special wishes! Contact us if you would like to taste the menu, receive other menu proposals or a non binding offer.

Depending on your wishes and needs you are welcome to make use of our event department's expertise – e.g. if you need locations, activities, concepts or help to carry out your event.

We offer both activities and food and, thus, only one supplier so that you can make use of all the benefits with a full service concept.

Bon appetite!
